

An aerial photograph of Logan International Airport in Boston. The airport's terminal, runways, taxiways, and parking areas are visible in the foreground and middle ground. Numerous commercial and private aircraft are parked at gates or on the tarmac. In the background, the dense urban landscape of Boston is visible, including the city skyline and the harbor. A large, stylized graphic of a globe is centered over the airport, with the word "BOSTON" written in a pink, serif font across it.
